Desired outcomes:

Sundance Collab embraces the discovery of new voices and talent, and the representation of all voices with a core value of equity. We support, nurture and develop the author's unique voice in storytelling and provide opportunities to advance artists in their journey of discovery across all forms and platforms. Learning craft is at the heart of our courses and events, creating a place to inspire and sustain artists, and encourage innovation and rigor in the process. We value taking risks and failure as an essential part of the process. There is never only one way or a “right way” to solve creative problems, but multiple ways to approach the work and multiple ways to solve problems. Feedback and mentorship should work towards this end.
